TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT

Dear Chair Anderson, Vice-Chair Ogawa and Members:

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony in support of Bill 20 (2015) concerning the creation of alternate housing using Accessory Dwelling Units, in particular on Hawaiian Home Lands.

Now is the time to provide a real solution to our housing crisis in Hawaii. With the price of housing and the lack of affordable rental housing, Accessory Dwelling Units provide a viable answer to making more shelters available to people with the greatest needs – our homeless. ADUs provide a community based solution which actively includes the community by allowing them to construct an ohana unit or retrofit or expand their existing houses. By limiting the size to 400 to 800 sq. ft, depending on the size of the lot involved, it minimizes the overall impact to the neighborhood. DPP also only approves those applicants in areas where the existing infrastructure can handle the proposed unit(s). Moreover, other safeguards are included to prevent abuse and turning the unit(s) into bed and breakfast units or other tourist accommodations.

As I previously testified, with over 10,566 native Hawaiians on the DHHL residential waiting list for Oahu and 22,450 statewide as of December 31, 2014, affordable housing in the Hawaiian Homestead Program is a critical priority. Many of these applicants live in the existing homestead areas in overcrowded households. There are presently 3,921 residential homestead lots in Kapolei, Nanakuli, in town, Waianae and Waimanalo. A quick survey shows often times three generations, sometimes numbering 20 people, living in the same household. Besides being overcrowded, many homes are in need of repair, dilapidated and unsafe. Sadly, many are forced to abandon the homestead to live on the beach, in their cars, in the bushes or on the streets. They make up the majority of our homeless. It's about time the State and City take steps to address this outrageous and unacceptable situation plaguing our indigenous people.

To facilitate the use of these ADUs on lands governed by the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, while Bill 20 facilitates City & County review in a positive way, DHHL can also take steps to promulgate rules governing and allowing rentals on their lots pursuant to Sections 207.5 and 208 of the HHCA. Because we are in an emergency situation, the Governor should seriously consider issuing an emergency proclamation expediting the rule making process. Moreover, use of federal NAHASDA funds to assist homesteaders in the cost of these ADUs would be totally appropriate and allowed under the federal law. It would merely require DHHL amending its Housing Plan. Constructing 500 ADUs is very doable.

Of the 5,000 homeless, with probably 34% being Hawaiians, these units would easily provide immediate relief in the form of permanent rental housing. Additionally, the homesteaders or homeowners would receive rental income to assist on their mortgage payments and other household expenses. The mutual benefits are obvious and clearly a practical and less costly approach to address the homeless situation. This is a viable and probably more acceptable approach rather than putting up a collection of temporary concentrated homeless shelters, which often times become permanent. Individual members in the communities or owners of these ADUs become part of the solution with a vested interest in the success of having rent paying tenants who lead more socially acceptable and productive lives. These new tenants become less financially burdensome to our taxpayers and are more likely positioned to be transformed into productive members of our communities. Surrounded by other family members, they will have the family support so crucial in really providing the help they need.

Doing it this way will result in success and reduce over crowdedness in homestead households, and allow those off of homesteads to return home. Social programs and access to ideally located service/education facilities are available. There are community learning centers and charter schools already in these areas. Social agencies with their various resources and programs are located in or close to these homestead areas, especially on the leeward coast where the homeless problem is the worst – Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center, Kamehameha Schools, QLCC, the Waianae Maritime Academy, Na Mea, Charter Schools such as Ka Waihona, Native Hawaiian Hospitality Association (NaHHA), various Hawaiian Homestead Associations, CNHA, Hawaiian Community Assets, UHWO, OHA, and UH's Ho'okulaiwi teachers program.

The Nanakuli Village Center is a good example where the community has stepped up with help from others. The Nanakuli Hawaiian Homestead Community Association is working with the private sector, Hawaiian Community Development Board, Kamehameha Schools, Waianae Comp., Ho'okulaiwi and UHWO to fulfill their dream of a place where people can find social services, health clinics, commercial enterprise and a large Kamehameha Cope learning/community center. They've partly addressed their homeless situation by building a 48 unit affordable housing project called Hale Makana O Nanakuli that services people in the 30-40% AMI. The City provided HOME and CDBG funds for Hale Makana. UHWO provided a Resource Center. The City must work with communities like Nanakuli if it hopes to solve or lessen the homeless problem. The next step is to help facilitate the installation of ADUs. Just in Nanakuli, there are 1,049 existing, large homestead lots that all could accommodate ADUs.

Such an initiative requires significant planning, some financial and personnel commitments on the part of the City and action by the State, especially DHHL. The community is prepared to act. They just need the legislative tools. The first step is to have this Council pass Bill 20, and then the mayor sign it into law.

The Sovereign Councils of the Hawaiian Homelands Assembly, formerly the State Council of Hawaiian Homestead Associations was founded more than 25 years ago to unite homestead communities and to advocate for the beneficiaries of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act of 1921. The SCHHA is the oldest statewide advocacy organization representing the interests of more than 30,000 beneficiaries and families residing in the communities of the Hawaiian Home Land Trust. Its mission is to promote the self determination of native Hawaiians and the well-being of homestead communities. As past Director of DHHL and as Chairman of Economic/Housing /Committee for SCHHA, I can appreciate the importance of building affordable rental housing. Bill 20 (2015) is a step in the right direction. This would be extremely helpful in addressing the lack of affordable housing for our homeless population.

I respectfully urge you to pass Bill 20 (2015).

Sincerely,
