Enclosed is a letter I have sent to the major island newspapers. I urge you strongly to consider supporting Resolution 06-075, and the impact of unplanned development on our island. Is Oahu for residents or tourists? Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Getting fat off the Land

The Pacific Golden Plover have filled their tummies in Hawaii, and flown to Alaska to nest. Many folks believe the Plover come here to "get fat off the land" and leave. I have a hard time being upset with a "bird" who is following his natural instincts. Our preschoolers love talking to them, getting a response from them, and watching their "tuxedos" appear in their feathers. It is also amazing to know that they survive the long flight across the ocean.

On the other hand, when large corporations or outside organizations come in to Hawaii, buy up real estate, and sell, just to make a profit, I do become upset. Oaktree Corp. at Turtle Bay is one such organization. They now have plans to build 3,500 more hotel rooms/condos at Turtle Bay. It will not only add to the already current traffic congestion on the North Shore, but from what I hear, they do not treat their employees with the Aloha spirit. When will enough, be enough? When will those that live in, and run our beautiful piec of paradise, say "no" to big developers, that do nothing but ruin our little island in the middle of the ocean?
