Aloha--

I write to support continued funding for the Mayor's Office of Culture and the Arts. MOCA is pivotal to Honolulu's arts activity, thus promoting economic and educational vitality. MOCA funds employ artists, assist in the creation of new work, and enable valuable educational opportunities for our community. The arts are vital to a great city, and also an important part of the economic well being of our communities. It is with great urgency that I recommend that MOCA funding be continued.
